

Table of Contents

1. Introduction	17
2. Analytical Framework	23
2.1. Conceptual Assumptions	23
2.2. The Principle of Coherence	30
2.3. The Analytical Dimensions.....	34
3. Historical Background	37
3.1. From the European Political Cooperation to Nice.....	37
3.2. From Nice to Lisbon	45
4. Institutional Background	49
4.1. Institutions and actors	50
4.1.1. The Council: Strategic Framework	51
4.1.2. The Support Structures in the Council	52
4.1.3. The Commission: Agenda-Setter	54
4.1.4. The European Parliament	56
4.2. Policy Making	57
5. Deficit Analysis: the Need for Reform	59
5.1. Coherence	59
5.1.1. Horizontal Coherence.....	59
5.1.2. Vertical Coherence	62
5.1.3. Institutional Coherence.....	67
5.2. Continuity	72
5.3. Efficiency.....	74
5.3.1. Distribution of Resources	74
5.3.2. Organization of the Policy-Making Process.....	78
6. Provisions on External Action in the Treaty of Lisbon	81
6.1. Legal structure	82
6.1.1. General Provisions and Specific Provisions.....	82
6.1.2. Legal Personality of the EU	83
6.2. Policy Making	84

6.3. Institutional Balance	86
6.3.1. The High Representative of the Union for Foreign Affairs and Security Policy	88
6.3.2. The President of the European Council	90
6.3.3. The Commission	91
6.3.4. Union Delegations	91
6.4. Further Changes	92
6.5. The External Action Service - Treaty Provisions and Recent Developments	94
6.5.1. The Negotiations	94
6.5.2. The Organization	96
6.5.3. The Structure	97
7. Meeting the Demands?.....	101
7.1. Coherence	101
7.1.1. Horizontal Coherence.....	101
7.1.2. Vertical Coherence.....	107
7.1.3. Institutional Coherence.....	113
7.2. Continuity	119
7.3. Efficiency.....	120
8. Conclusion	125
Bibliography.....	133